Mayor Hofmann Hits at Telegraph, Earle for Criticisms

Says Letter to Paper Was 'Over-Played'

Obviously nettled by observations made in The Evening Telegraph Tuesday night in a story under John E. Earle's name, Mayor J. Fred Hofmann took some lusty wallops at this newspaper at last night's council meeting. Hizzoner also took some jabs at Mr. Earle for writing the letter to The Telegraph.

After a lengthy tirade, Mayor Hofmann, in an obvious attempt to offset Mr. Earle's remarks about the administration disregarding the public interest, passed verbal posies around to all commissioners in an attempt to "soft soap" them. (Misery loves company).

Mayor Hofmann blasted the practice of certain individuals and The Telegraph for "blowing up" anything that appears to be detrimental to the way the council is running the city of Dixon.

Said Hofmann:

"I very seldom comment on public opinion or the remarks made by the people who try to run this council. The people of Dixon elected this council. They have the right to put us out of office if they so desire. Until such time as they do, all the members of this council will continue to do what they consider best for the people of Dixon.

Now He's Editor

"During the past week there has been an undercurrent of comment from certain quarters, with emphasis provided by the practice of "blowing up" of certain news stories about the weekly council meetings, that is not warranted, Hofmann continued.

"Occasionally," Hofmann went on, "the weekly council meetings do provide material that is newsworthy, but the practice of "blowing things up" into banner head-

TO MAYOR HOFMANN:

When the columns of The Dixon Evening Telegraph can be utilized by Mayor J. Fred Hofmann and other members of the City Council for their pet ideas, that's fine! But when other citizens and taxpayers want to use these columns, it's a different story.

The Dixon Evening Telegraph offers no apologies to Mayor Hofmann or anyone else for publishing John Earle's letter on the front page of last night's edition. Whether or not Mayor Hofmann agrees, John Earle is a respected citizen of Dixon. His failure to be elected to public office certainly should not be held against him.

And Mayor, since when have public officials become such 'sacred cows' that they are beyond criticism? We believe that watchfulness such as displayed by John Earle is a good thing for a community.

The columns of The Evening Telegraph are always open to our readers. Whether or not Mr. Earle's letter was 'blown up' depends on where you are sitting, Fred. The writer takes full credit. Thanks.

Dixon City Dump Ordered Closed by Town Officials

AUTHOR DIES—Margaret Mitchell (above) world-famous author of "Gone With the Wind," died in Grady Memorial hospital in Atlanta, Ga., five days after she was struck by a speeding automobile there.

Higby, Group Take Action on Petition

With a bristling statement that "there'll be no more passing the buck," Supervisor A. C. Higby and members of the Dixon township board of health yesterday afternoon ordered the closing of the city dumping grounds on Third street after a petition bearing 148 signatures had been filed in his office. The township health board is composed of Supervisor Higby, Town Clerk William Wickey and Assessor Arthur C. Handell.

Supervisor Higby stated that the health board took action immediately following the filing of the petition which bore 148 signatures and which stated:

"We, the undersigned residents and voters of said Dixon township do hereby request that dumping be prohibited in the gravel pits in the west side of the City of Dixon and in Dixon township. And that the duty elected officials of said Dixon township take action at once."

Mayor Notified

Following receipt of the petition, Supervisor Higby informed Police Chief Harry Fischer that the dumping grounds were closed and acting upon the chief's suggestion, he then notified Mayor J. Fred Hofmann.

The dump grounds has been a problem of lengthy discussion between both city and township officials, following the injunction proceeding which closed the Covert estate property near Plum Hollow several weeks ago. Since the closing of this site which had been used by the city and individuals for years, the location on Third street was designated as the dumping site.

Governor Vetoes Cigarette Price-Fixing Bill; Ounce Liquor Shot Bill Now Law

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Governor Stevenson today vetoed a bill to fix cigarette prices and prevent cut rate sales in Illinois.

Stevenson acted on four other bills, thus winding up his work on the total of 833 measures passed by the general assembly during its six months session which closed July 1.

Besides killing the cigarette bill, which he called an "out and out mandatory price fixing measure," Stevenson today also:

Allowed to become law without his signature a bill increasing the salary of future Illinois governors to $25,000 a year—the first pay raise for a governor since 1907. The present salary is $12,000 a year.

Permitted to become law without signing a measure guaranteeing whisky, gin and rum drinkers a full ounce shot when served at bars.

Vetoed legislation requiring currency exchange trucks to obtain a separate state license and pay an annual fee of $10 for each location served in cashing checks.

Approved a bill requiring publication of all notices dealing with elections, building sales, petitions and other legal matters concerning schools.

The cigarette bill placed a floor on retail and wholesale sales and prohibited sales at below cost—defined at four percent above what wholesalers paid for cigarettes and 10 percent above what retailers paid. It provided penalties for violations.

In his veto message, Stevenson said the proposal "is in essence a mandatory price fixing bill." He added:

"Price fixing for the benefit of limited business interests without compensating benefit to the consuming public who pay the price is, in my opinion, objectionable.

Sangamon Group Would Tax, Make Gambling Legal

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17—(AP)—A Sangamon county political group today recommended legalizing gambling in the state and taxing it to meet governmental expenses.

William V. Wanless of Springfield, president of the county's Young Republican organization said the present two per cent sales tax, the state's main revenue producer, could be eliminated under the plan.

He said his organization adopted a resolution calling for repeal of present anti-gaming statutes and placing a 15 per cent tax on gambling. A license fee for slot machines and similar devices was suggested.

A seven member commission should be created to supervise gambling and collect fees, Wanless said, with a third of revenue earmarked for state aid to schools.

"Everybody gambles or wants to," he added.

Wanless said the plan will be submitted to the 1951 general assembly.

The legislature this year turned down bills to legalize bingo and handbook race betting.

Acheson in Warning to Western Germans

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP) — Secretary of State Acheson warned the western Germans today against abusing the freedoms permitted them by the western occupation powers.

Acheson sounded the warning in a news conference statement on Sunday's elections in western Germany. He hailed the results as a "victory for moderation and common sense."

He noted there had been sharp criticism of the occupation powers during the election campaign. He indicated he wasn't worried about that but:

"Abuse of such freedoms may alienate western sympathies while failing to serve the best interests of the German people."

The Germans "may well be reminded," he added, "that they are exercising these freedoms only because they are privileged to live under the jurisdiction of freedom loving nations."

KILLED IN COUP—President Hossni Zaim (above) and Premier Moushin El Barazi of Syria were shot and killed in Damascus, capital of Syria, by a dissident army faction which seized power in a lightning coup. Zaim, former army chief-of-staff, was overthrown by the same officers who had helped him seize power by force only four months ago.

Lie Detector Tests Clear Mrs. Walters

Oregon, Ill.—Mrs. Beebe Brown Walters, whose name has been mentioned in connection with alleged shortages in accounts of Attorney John Hayes, Rochelle, when he was Master in Chancery, got a clean bill of health yesterday.

Mrs. Walters insisted on being taken to Chicago and given lie-detector tests. She was taken to the Chicago Crime Detection Labrotary before Dr. Leonard Keeler According to the results of the test, Mrs. Walters was given an absolute clean-bill-of-health regarding the alleged shortages.

Mrs. Walters' name was brought into the case when Mr. Hayes stated in a brief filed with the Ogle county circuit court, that Mrs. Walters was one of several persons having access to certain records in her former employer's office.

Larrupin' Lou, of Square Dance Fame, Dies at 68

Rockford — (Special) — Louis Harrington, the 68-year-old "Larrupin' Lou" of square-dance fame, is dead

Mr Harrington, who conducted square-dancing classes for hundreds in Dixon and surrounding area, died shortly after noon Tuesday in his home in Rockford He had returned to his home recently after receiving surgery in the Wisconsin General hospital, Madison, Wis.

His body will be cremated and the ashes interred at Point Douglas Minn. There will be no funeral services.

Amboy Man Reports Car Is Taken Here

Dixon police are searching for the automobile thief who drove off with a 1941 blue Plymouth coupe owned by H. M. July, of Amboy, sometime between 12:30 p. m and 4:00 p. m. yesterday afternoon.

July informed the police that the car was taken from the Terminal Building, on North Peoria avenue.

Violators to Lose Permits in Two Weeks

Chicago, Aug. 17—(AP)—The state will move formally to close more than 400 taverns for gaming violations in about two weeks.

Charles J. Fleck, Illinois Liquor Control Commission chairman, said hearings will be held in Chicago the last week of August and in Springfield the first week of September.

Fleck said renewal of tavern licenses for the 1949-50 period will be denied operators convicted of recent gaming violations. The crackdown, he said, is being pushed by Attorney General Ivan Elliott on orders from Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson.

Have Temporary Permits

Some 432 tavernkeepers who have been convicted of gambling law violations in Illinois courts are now operating under temporary liquor commission permits.

Fleck said these operators will be confronted with certified proofs of their court convictions. If they appear, they must fight to clear their names and establishments. If they don't appear their places will automatically be ordered closed.

Denial of licenses by the commission may be appealed to the circuit courts. In cases where appeals are made, the tavern owners may continue to operate, Fleck said. However, if their appeals are denied, he said, the commisison will proceed on the assumption that each day's opera-

$1,000,000 Is AFL Goal for Politics

Toronto, Aug. 17—(AP)—Plans for raising a $1,000 fund for use in next year's elections were approved yesterday by the political section of the American Federation of Labor. The money is to be used to help elect men considered pro-labor and in an effort to defeat men marked as anti-labor by the AFL.

The administrative council of labor's league for political education, meeting in conjunction with the quarterly session of the AFL executive council, approved the plans. The AFL council members also sit on the league's council.

Joseph Keenan, director of the league, said a per capita assessment of $2 would be sought from the federation's members for the 1950 campaign.

Women Alcoholics Are on Increase

Philadelphia, Aug. 17—(AP)—Women alcoholics and habitual drunkards in the United States have increased to an all-time high of 800,000, an officer of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union said today.

Mary E Ervin, vice president at large of the WCTU, told the organization's executive committee the current increase in women drink victims is at the rate of 120,000 a year.

No Permit to Build Issued by the City

Heated opposition has developed to the location of the new memorial arch on which work has been started on Galena avenue south of Second street. City officials today stated that they had not been consulted concerning the location and that n request for a permit has been filed. City Clerk Wayne Smith said that no application for a building permit had been made. Some city officials refused to be quoted, but said they did not approve of the manner in which the arch is being erected.

A member of the city planning commission expressed his feelings in opposing the construction of the arch on the proposed site.

While speaking as but one member of the planning commission and not for the body, he based his opposition to the fact that the arch was to be of a permanent type of construction, and that the location selected, did not take into consideration future expansion or improvement of Galena avenue.

Arch Hinders Progress

"It is quite certain that in the next few years that some changes will necessarily be made on the state and federal highways passing through Dixon, and there is a possibility that some four-lane construction might be undertaken. The presence of a permanent arch at the location now proposed would be a hindrance to such an improvement."

To this statement, the planning board member added that his group has "not been approached or consulted, and that those in charge of the construction had gone ahead with their plans without consulting city officials or departments."

In an effort to place the responsibility of the selection of the new location on a single individual or group, the Dixon Evening Telegraph was unsuccessful after a lengthy investigation. No member of the city commission, the state highway department or other individual appeared to know who authorized the new site where two excavations have been made on both sides of Galena avenue between the curb and sidewalk.

A member of the planning commission suggested that the bases could have been set further back on both sides of the street in considering furture traffic requirements, with the walks on either side of the street passing under the arch instead of back of the supporting pillars.

Contact State Officials

It was learned this morning that the State Highway Department at Springfield is being contacted regarding the arch. According to local rumors, no one has contacted the State Department for permission to build the arch. Such permission is necessary over a state trunk highway, and Galena avenue is a state trunk.

Castle Rock Crash Injures Oregon Pair

Oregon— (Special) —Two persons, both residents of the Oregon area, were hospitalized in Warmolts clinic today receiving treatment for injuries sustained in an auto crash near Castle Rock about 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Those injured were Wayne F. Osterheld, 30, Oregon fertilizer salesman, and Mrs. Walter Jones, 48, a widow residing south of Oregon. They were the drivers of the two automobiles involved in the crash.

Chief Deputy Willard Burright, of Ogle county, who with Deputy Bill Fletcher, investigated the collision, said that the two cars apparently met head-on. The car driven by Osterheld was headed south.

Osterheld suffered a fractured leg and possible rib fractures while Mrs. Jones had a badly injured leg and lacerations about the head. Both were in deep shock and could not be questioned.

Woman Has Fourth Child in One Year

Jasper, Tenn., Aug. 17—(AP)—Mrs Raynord Hix of Whitwell, Tenn., has given birth to her fourth child in less than a year.

The stork made only two trips—twins each time.

A boy and a girl, both reported doing fine, were born Sunday. The first set, also a boy and a girl, was born Sept. 10, 1948.

Hix, a packing house employe, and his wife have two other children, one two years old and the other four.

Morrison Has Mystery Fires

Morrison — (Special) — Four mystery fires, climaxed by the burning of a barn Tuesday afternoon, admittedly had Morrison county authorities baffled today.

The latest occurred on the Ernest Fadden farm, four miles southwest of Morrison, where four fires since Sunday have kept the rural firemen hopping.

Three of the fires occurred in the upstairs apartment occupied by Wayne Dersham, the farm tenant. Yesterday's blaze destroyed a barn, grain and farm machinery with a total value of $12,000.

Two of the blazes were discovered in upstairs closets, another in a davenport in the Dersham apartment.

Whiteside County Sheriff Boyd Kimmell said today that the fires were "unquestionably of incendiary origin." However, he said he was awaiting an investigation by Walter Parlier, Peoria, deputy state fire marshal, before filing any charges. Parlier was in Morrison and Sterling today conducting the check-up.

The sheriff said that he was also checking on reported disputes between Dersham and Fadden.

Shirley's Swim Balked by Wind

Dover, Eng., Aug. 17—(AP)—Shirley May France will not attempt to swim the English channel tonight, her manager announced today.

She had planned to plunge into the channel at Cap Gris Nez, France, sometime around midnight, but unfavorable weather conditions caused reconsideration.

Ted Worner, who manages the 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., high school junior, said "I have just had a consultation with all my advisers and things look bad. The weather forecast is for winds of 10 to 15 miles an hour tonight."

Morrissey Wins Top Honors with His Poland China

Springfield — (Special)) —Fashionette, a 29-month-old Poland China sow owned by Bill Morrissey, 17-year-old Lee county youth, won the grand championship in the aged sow class at the state fair here yesterday.

The 875-pound purebred copped the coveted purple ribbon over a host of entries. Fashionette, as a gilt, was champion over all breeds at the F.F.A. district show held at Morrison in 1947.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Morrissey, of Marion township. He and his father are veteran breeders of Poland China purebreds.

Fashionette was just under the limit of two years six months for the two-year-old class.

Two Die in Crossing Crash at Sterling; Six Are Hurt

Sterling—(Special)—A mother and her 12-year-old son were killed and six other passengers of an automobile were injured when the car was struck by a fast freight at a Chicago and NorthWestern railroad crossing here last night.

The dead were Mrs. Albert Boothe, 34, Sterling, and her son, Troy, 12. Troy was killed instantly while his mother died in the Sterling hospital at 11:15 p. m., four hours after the crash.

Seriously injured were Albert Boothe, 38, Mrs. Boothe's husband, and a neighbor child, Shirley McBroom, 4. Other children injured but only slightly were the Boothe children, Robert, 13, Billy, 9, Barbara, 5, and Roger, 2.

The Boothe car, containing the eight passengers, was rammed broadside by the eastbound diesel-powered engine, shortly after the driver had halted the vehicle at the crossing to await the passing of a west-bound passenger train. The car reportedly stalled in the path of the eastbound train. It was demolished.

Murder Charge Is Filed Against Mitchell's Killer

Atlanta, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Murder charges have been placed against the taxi driver who fatally injured Margaret Mitchell, world-famous author of "Gone With the Wind."

Miss Mitchell, whose novel of civil war and reconstruction days outsold everything in print except the Bible, died yesterday in Grady Memorial hospital.

Death came five days after she was struck down by a speeding automobile on her beloved Peachtree street, which her novel helped make famous. She died in an operating room as physicians prepared for emergency surgery to try and save her life.

Private funeral services will be tomorrow.

Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Hugh D. Gravitt, the 28-year-old driver of the car is being held without bond on a charge of murder. Atlanta Police Chief Herbert Jenkins said the case may go to the grand jury Friday.

Gravitt, listed on police records for 22 previous traffic violations, was off duty and driving his own car when he struck Miss Mitchell. Until the 43-year-old author's death, he had been free in $5,450 bond on a charge of suspicion of manslaughter.

The exact cause of death may not be known for several days.

All-Night Search Locates 13-Year-Old Lost at Oregon

Oregon (Special)—A 13-year-old Canadian tourist, who became separated from her parents shortly after the trio had stopped for a roadside lunch Tuesday evening, was found at 7 a m today seated along Highway 64, near Liberty Hill, west of Oregon.

Patricia Ann Shannon who was the object of a night-long search by Ogle county and Oregon authorities, told them this morning that she had slept near the roadside all night after she became lost.

Her parents, Atty. and Mrs. Harold Shannon, of Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, sought the aid of Oregon police about 5:45 p. m. shortly after Patricia disappeared. The family was en route from Ann Arbor, Mich., to Seattle, Wash., when they stopped for the roadside snack. Blonde Patricia wandered up the highway, her parents said, and then they failed to locate her.

Officer John D. Wiley, Oregon night patrolman, after a night-long search, discovered the Canadian girl this morning while making his final check of the area.

Orresey Cops Swine Honors at State Fair

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17—(AP)—Judging of blooded cattle, swine, horses and sheep monopolized attention again today at the Illinois state fair.

The mettle of veteran exhibitors from Illinois and out-of-state proved itself on an increasing scale as livestock events for junior stock raisers, mostly from within the state, began to taper off.

The usual political flavor of Wednesday at the fair was little in evidence. It was Republican day, but party leaders decided three weeks ago to forego the customary political rally and speechmaking program.

Don Erickson, 17, of Springfield, carried off his third straight boys' state horseshoe pitching championship yesterday. Don swept all seven of his matches. Richard Beane of Bristol Station was second and Eldin Vaughan of Huntsville finished third.

In the baton twirling contest, Mary Ann Meyer, 17, of Golf, Ill., won out over nearly 100 other competitors—all under 21 years old.

Two grand champions in dairy products were named. O. J. Robison, of Sullivan, took the top award for his processed cheese entry. The Kolb-Lena Cheese Company of Lena won the grand championship in the foreign type cheese division.

Blue Ribbon Butter

An eight pound pail of sweet cream butter gave Mrs. Walter Rayburn of Mahomet a blue ribbon in another dairy products event.

Tuesday competition produced these major livestock awards in open judging:

Jersey — Illinois and grand champion Jersey bull, Putnam's Jersey farm, Harvard.

Horses: Percheron—Senior and grand champion mare, Frank C. Rathje, Palatine; reserve grand champion, Lynnwood Farms, Greenwood, Ind. Senior and grand champion stallion, the Brandtjen Farm, Farmington, Minn.; reserve grand champion, Frank C. Rathje.

Mules: The Governor Stevenson trophy for the best group of 10 mules went to Halcomb, Murphy and Gaffinet, of Blue Mound. The same stable exhibited the grand champion mule of the show.

Orresey Wins

Swine: Poland China—Senior and grand champion boar, Oscar Anderson, Leland, Ill.; senior champion, Wayne Bates, Carlinville Senior and grand champion sow, E. C. Orresey, Amboy; junior champion, Ravenswood farms, Green Valley.

Duroc Jersey—Grand champion boar, Herman Watson, Macomb; reserve grand champion, Tracey Brothers, Williamsville. Senior and grand champion sow, F. L. Bossingham and son, Stanford; reserve grand champion, Fenmar farms, Ryan, Ill.

Sheep: Cheviot—Champion ram and ewe Alvin H. Helms, Belleville. Oxford—Champion ram and ewe William Duncan, Lake Villa Southdown—Champion ram, C. M Kendall Wheatley, Ky.; champion ewe George Helms and son, Belleville. In the Illinois southdown show, Robert Cresap, of Seymour, had the champion ram, and Emerick Bistline, Alecto, the champion ewe.

Junior department judging produced three more champions in the dairy cattle division Walter Ramm 15, of Lincoln exhibited the blue ribbon guernsey Kenneth S Zorrest, 19 Pocahontas, had the champion Holstein. Russell Putnam Harvard showed the champion Jersey.

Three-Week-Old But She's Walking

Murray, Utah, Aug 17—(AP)—She's quite a little toddler, the three-weeks-old daughter of Mr and Mrs La Veil Benson.

She's already walking.

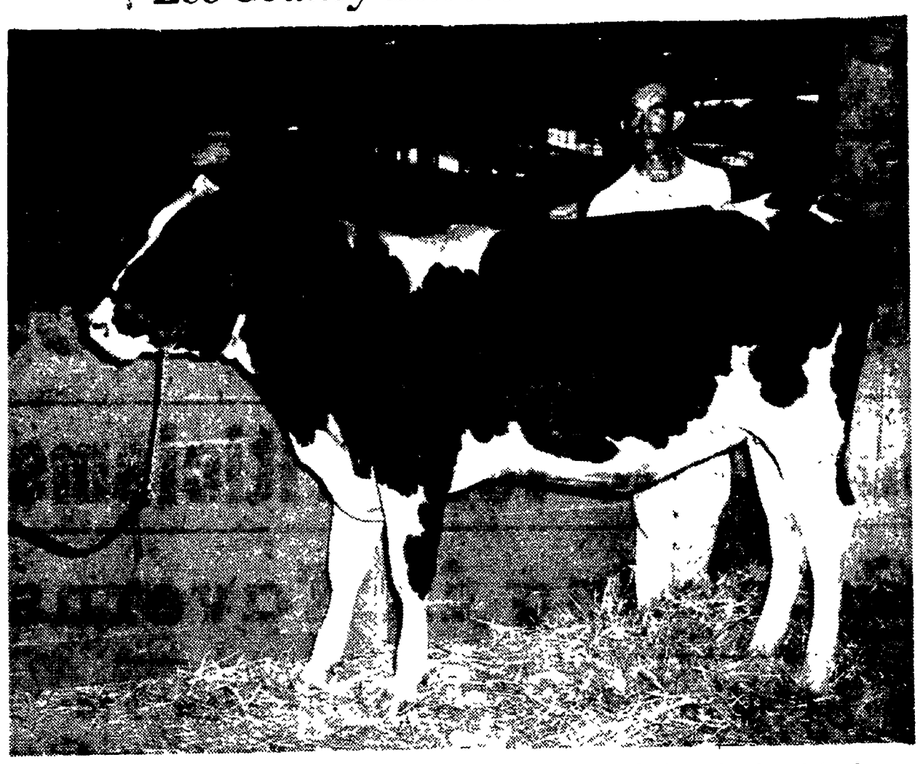

And she doesn't even have a name yet.

Born July 22 the young lady surprised her mother about a week ago

"I was giving her a bath and had turned her over on her stomach to wash her back," Mrs Benson reports. "Resting against my left hand she raised herself on her feet and proceeded to take several steps in the bathinet."

Mrs. Benson says her doctor has cautioned her not to let the child walk too much. The doctor, who asked that his name not be used said he had seen the baby "lift its knees and take four or five steps" while Mrs. Benson partially supported it.

Lee County Entries at State Fair

HOLSTEIN HEIFER—Clarence Holtslaw, leader of the Ambitious Aggies club, shown washing the Holstein heifer of Edith Robbins, member of his club. Holtslaw is caring for the heifer, and Edith will show on Tuesday. Holtslaw is also showing two of his Poland China gilts in the open class.

PURE-BRED CHESTERS—Dwight S. Varner, R. 1, Dixon, 4-H leader who is acting as a 4-H chaperon and showing 28 of his purebred Chetser Whites in the open class. Varner shown here with Varner's Dixon Maid, litter mate to the grand dam of the No. 738 production registry letter recently published in the Telegraph.

'Gabby' Senate Snarls Up Government Services, Good

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington Aug 17—(AP)—The senate which talks so much it can't get its work done on time, is snarling up the government again.

The only way the government can run at all is on money voted by house and senate for the various departments and agencies

The government does business on a fiscal year basis, with the fiscal year beginning on July 1 and ending the next June 30

Since congress begins each regular years session early in January, it is supposed to get its appropriating finished before the fiscal year begins July 1.

A lot of work goes into the appropriating. All the government agencies and departments tell congress early in January how much they'll need to run on for another fiscal year

Then the appropriations committees of house and senate hold long hearings where the department heads are questioned about the money they ask for.

The committees' job is to be sure the money is needed and to try to cut down the amount asked for

When the committees finish, they send appropriations bills one after another up to the full house and senate to be voted on. Each bill covers the money needs of one department or a number of departments and agencies.

Senate Tongue Wags

This year the house had finished up its hearings, drawn up its bills, and voted on them all before the Easter vacation began.

Not the senate. With its tongue wagging day in and out, it droned away time. July 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year, edged close.

A batch of departments still didn't have the money they needed to do business in the new fiscal year, June 30 arrived. The senate still hadn't voted appropriations for a big chunk of the government.

To tide them over the emergency, house and senate voted them enough money to keep on doing business until July 31, by which time, it was hoped, the senators could clean up its appropriations.

But July 31 came and the senate still was far behind schedule. Once more both houses agreed to let the unappropriated—for government departments do business, this time until Aug. 15.

Aug. 15 came around this week. The senate still hadn't appropriated for the military forces or the interior department.

Up A Tree

They're up a bit of a tree now.

As of midnight, Aug. 15, several agencies had no legal right to buy anything or spend any money.

Since this is a real mess, both houses probably will once more have to authorize those agencies to keep on doing business till they get their appropriations.

Six Die in Auto Crash With Train

Ogallala, Neb., Aug. 17—(AP)—Six persons were killed last night in a collision of their car and the Union Pacific's Overland Limited at a railroad crossing here.

Trainmen identified the dead as Ascension Jiminez, well-to-do Ogallala farmer, his wife, two daughters, and two grandsons. Another daughter was taken to a hospital. Physicians expected her to live.

The 1948 automobile was struck broadside and hurled 90 feet. All except Jiminez were thrown from the car. The train had not been scheduled for a stop at Ogallala.

Six sons and four daughters, including Annie, survive the parents.

Ogallala is in western Nebraska near the Colorado border.

Seek to End Dock Strike at Honolulu

Honolulu, Aug. 17—(AP)—Longshoremen and waterfront employers met across a peace table today in a new effort to end Hawaii's 109-day CIO dock strike.

The agreement to resume direct negotiations developed with dramatic suddenness during a conference Gov. Ingram M. Stainback arranged in his office yesterday.

Almost immediately officials of Hawaii's seven struck stevedoring firms and leaders of the international longshoremen's and warehousemen's union began meeting. The first session lasted two hours.

Start From Scratch

Resumption of negotiations, made at the suggestion of longshore President Harry Bridges, was on the basis of starting "from scratch." The stevedores struck May 1 for a 32 cents hike in their $1.40 hourly pay.

The talks came on top of these maneuvers in court and on the waterfronts of Hawaii and the mainland.

1. Circuit Judge Edward A. Towse ordered a contempt action "or other appropriate action" against Bridges for personally defying an anti-picketing injunction obtained by the territory under its new dock seizure law.

2. The ILWU asked in federal court for an injunction against the dock seizure law which provides for government stevedoring operations. The union seeks also $3,000,000 damages from the territory and the seven struck firms.

Government In Test

3. The government began its test to see whether it could unload ships with its own stevedores.

4. Two ships sailed with their CIO marine engineers defying orders of their union's executive board not to work behind the ILWU's picket lines.

5. Matson announced in San Francisco it would call stevedores today for work on the Hawaiian Refiner. The ship is picketed by ILWU longshoremen who flew there from Honolulu.

Radio War with Russia Is Requiring Some More Funds

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—The state department is planning to throw heavy new reinforcements into the radio war with Russia if congress will provide the money.

The house appropriations committee took the first step yesterday by recommending an appropriation of $11,500,000. This is still subject to action by the house itself and the senate.

The house committee approved the additional sum for "The Voice of America" (which now is down for $7,500,000) after receiving testimony from Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, director of psychological warfare for the army.

Wedemeyer testified that American efforts—coupled with those of the British Broadcasting corporation—to get programs into Russia appear to be causing the Soviets considerable injury in their total radio operation.

Reds Being Hurt

"We have received numerous reports from good sources," Wedemeyer said, "that would indicate that we are hurting them and hurting them badly."

The present phase of the radio conflict between Russia and the western powers opened April 24 when the Soviets began jamming British and American broadcasts to the Russian people.

That was on the eve of the first announcement concerning the successful negotiations for ending the Berlin blockade.

It was then assumed that as soon as the Berlin crisis was over the radio situation would return to normal; that is, the United States and Britain would be able to broadcast into Russia their uncensored versions of world news just as the Russians are able to broadcast to other countries.

Instead of easing off, the struggle has become intensified. On May 7 the United States and Britain coordinated all the broadcasting equipment they could spare to try to break through the screen of disruptive radio waves which the Russians were throwing up with an enormous number of jamming stations.

A month later, a survey of official reports here showed that the British and American programs were breaking through the wall of noise only in spots. As far as getting information to the Russian listener is concerned, therefore, the western powers have not had too much success.

"Jam" 24 Hours a Day

They have put their broadcasts on an around the clock basis, forcing the Russians to jam 24 hours a day.

One trick they have used is to broadcast some programs on frequencies so close to those of the regular Russian domestic radio stations that when the Soviets try to jam the western signals they jam their own as well.

Another is the diversion of their stations from regular broadcasting to jamming. In their huge country the Soviets depend largely on radio broadcasting to disseminate news and information.

Ex-Gob Is a Faker; Goes to Workhouse

New York, Aug. 17—(AP)—When tall, 20-year-old Beecher Beth Mac Leod, Jr., got out of the navy, he couldn't find a job.

So he taped up his eyes, put on dark glasses, and with a tin cup and cane toured busy Brooklyn street as a "blind man." For three months, he took in about $15 a day, which easily supported himself and his wife.

That was the story he told in magistrate's court yesterday after he was arrested by a detective. The detective had sen his drive up and park a car, before starting his daily beggar's rounds.

Magistrate Charles E. Ramsgate said people are not sympathetic to "fakers like you" and sentenced him to six months in the workhouse.

White-crowned sparrows feed their brood about 250 insects in a day, in addition to weed seed.

Democrats to Have Big Day at State Fair

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17—(AP)—Illinois Democrats will get in some fall campaign political oratory at their state fair rally here tomorrow.

Keynoting the Governor's Day gathering will be Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who headlined the same fair program a year ago. U. S. Senator Scott W. Lucas, preparing to run for another term, and Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson also will be on the one hour speaking schedule.

Over 600 Cook county and Chicago Democrats headed by Jacob M. Arvey, the Cook county chairman, will come by special train.

The program will start with a motor car parade from the governor's mansion to the fairgrounds.

The speechmaking in front of the grandstand begins at noon and will finish up by 1 p. m. So that the daily harness racing program won't be delayed.

Barkley will be guest of Governor and Mrs. Stevenson at the mansion during his stay here.

Republicans have canceled their fair rally, set for today. But many of them from central Illinois will attend a testimonial dinner here tonight for Everett M. Dirksen, former Pekin congressman who is panning to run for U. S. senator.

More than 700 fires occur in homes daily, averaging about $350 loss per fire.

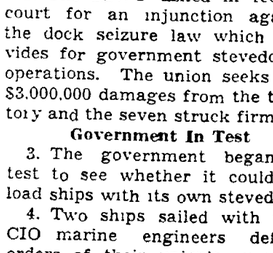

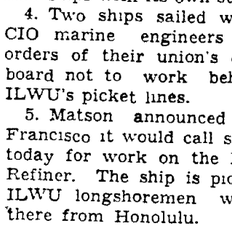

Rural mail carriers travel more than 1,430,000 miles a day in the performance of their official duties.

Your Doctor Knows

When you feel 'out of sorts," when you have an ache or a pain, well-meaning friends will gladly prescribe for your ills. Their judgment is based on what they have heard from others ,and they talk glibly of what happened to Pete, Sam or John under similar circumstances. Such friendly interest may result in serious harm. When you need medical advice, there is just one person in the world qualified to give it. That is your family physician. See him promptly. Bring his prescriptions to us. They will be compounded with accuracy and dispatch.

State Worker Costs 'way Up

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—State governments employed 982,000 persons in April and carried a $197,000,000 monthly payroll.

The census bureau, reporting this today, called it a record both in numbers and in pay.

Compared with 12 months earlier, the number of jobholders was up 61 per cent or 56,000.

The payroll itself was up $25,700,000 a month or 15 per cent for the period largely because average pay went up from $185 a month in April 1948 to $200 last April.

Schools—and mainly colleges, at that—were said to account for more personnel (30 per cent of the overall total) and payroll (29 per cent) than any other single function.

Highways and hospitals together accounted (each almost equally) for another 23 per cent of state employes.

Practically one-half of all payrolls and 43 per cent of all employes of the 48 state governments were reported accounted for by eight states New York, California, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Illinois, Texas, Ohio and Michigan.

Air commerce regulations require that parachutes in active service be repacked every two months.

The basketball fives of Kentucky, Tulane, Bradley and Villanova will meet in the Sugar Bowl basketball tourney, Dec. 29 and 30.

Bill McPeak, Pittsburgh football ace now with the Cleveland Browns, is a great-great nephew of heavyweight champ Bob Fitzsimmons.

1A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

'Tis not the dying for a faith that's so hard: 'tis the living up to it that is so difficult.—Thackeray.

Channel Swimmer Is Reminder of '20's

We can thank Shirley May France, the comely 17-year-old Massachusetts lass, for taking our minds off the diet of crises by which we live these days.

Alert Americans have to attend to the critical problems of the time or stand accused of careless citizenship. But Shirley May's channel swim is a welcome relief from the grim spate of stories about Britain's dollar troubles, Russia's obstinacy and deception, and the painful plodding of congress through a hot summer.

Shirley May can do this for us because her venture has all the elements of the most forceful human story that can be told: man, or better still, girl against nature.

We've had channel swims before. And maybe the country has grown up a lot since the giddy 1920's when an American girl named Gertrude Ederle stole the front pages with her successful try. But still this contest against nature can't be dismissed as "old stuff."

The fact is that events like this are well-nigh irresistible. Look at the exciting ingredients of the story: a treacherous expanse of water, icy cold and churned by shifting tides and gusty winds, and a sturdy young blue-eyed blonde who has been preparing a long time to pit her strength and pluck against it.

Too, Shirley May has led us to hark back to a past that was gayer, if somewhat more irresponsible, than our present. And nobody seems sorry for that.

Americans are a nostalgic people. They enjoy dwelling on their former glories and pleasures. They like almost anything that recalls the flavor of a day gone by.

Who can read of Shirley May's channel swim without thinking again of the frizzy hair-do's and short skirts of the flappers, the Charleston and Black Bottom, long runs by Red Grange of Illinois, and the placid countenance of "Silent Cal" Coolidge?

Yes, we owe Shirley May our gratitude for this. She's given us an agreeable change in mood and temper. She's made us remember it is still possible to relax and be pleasantly trivial.

'I Shall Not Return'

Congress is now engaged in one of its periodic efforts to bring Gen. Douglas MacArthur home from overseas.

Numerous tries have been made in the years since World War II ended, but always without success. Each time MacArthur has said "No," declaring that his duties will not permit him to leave his post.

Last year the pressure on him was heavy. It came from his backers in congress who believed his presence at home might start a stampede for him at the Republican National convention. Though his hat was in the ring, the general stayed in Tokyo.

Now members of the senate foreign relations committee want the general home for questioning on future American policy in China.

He's been asked to return for that very reason before. He answered then that others were better qualified than he on the Chinese issue.

Once more he has answered "No." So unless Defense Secretary Johnson orders him home, General MacArthur will stay right in Tokyo.

It's hard to see why the general is so thoroughly wedded to his post as allied commander in Japan. General Clay, for a long time MacArthur's counterpart in occupied Germany, came home many times during his tenure.

If it weren't for that famous hat encrusted with gold trim, one might think the general had grown shy.

Weather forecasting may get aid from the development of giant electronic computers.

Voice of the People

THE FURNITURE AGAIN

It has been rumored that I am President of The Dixon Memorial Association. If this is true, there has been a slip somewhere as I have never had any notification to that effect.

It would seem to me that an official notice should come from the Secretary stating the results of the election of officers and when their term of office starts.

Perhaps Mr. Helmick is Secretary. He mentioned something about a meeting being called by President Reece. I don't know the gentleman — my name is Rees.

Furthermore, in regards to the furniture in the G.A.R. Hall, the business regarding th disposal of this furniture transpired under the Presidency of C. L. Ballard and as far as I am concerned, he is still the President.

Marion V. Rees

Q and A's

Q—What do the tusks of an elephant weigh?

A—The tusks of an elephant weighs as much as 200 pounds.

Q—Who composed the music for "Home Sweet Home"?

A—The words of this song were written by John Payne for a play, "Clari, the Maid of Milan." The play was converted into an opera by Sir Henry Rowley Bishop and first produced at Covent Garden Theatre, London, in 1823.

Q—What are the abecedarian Psalms?

A—They are the Psalms in which the verdses of successive portions are arranged in alphabetical order such as the 119th.

Q—Have scientists established the fact that the temperature can be estimated from the chirps of a cricket?

A—There is a definite relationship between a cricket's chirp and the prevailing temperature. The rate of chirp depends upon the temperature. The rapidity of its chirps is so affected by heat and cold that a formula has been devised for getting the temperature.

Q—What is the nationality of Michael Arlen?

A—Michael Arlen is a pseudonym. The British novelist's name is Dikran Kuyumdjian. He is of Armenian parentage.

Q—Who presided at the impeachment trial of President Andrew Johnson?

A—According to the provisions of the Constitution, Johnson was tried by the Senate. The presiding judge at this trial was Chief Justice of the United States Salmon P. Chase.

• SO THEY SAY

The kind of wage policy which will help to maintain full employment in this country, and which will maintain our economy on stable levels, is one which adds to consumer purchasing power from year to year, because we have the capacity to produce more and more goods from year to year.

Is Self-Taught Marie Wilson More 'Brain' Than Body?

By MARIE WILSON

(For Erskine Johnson, who is on vacation)

Hollywood—(NEA)—Ever since I've been in pictures, I have received special awards for my legs. My face has been cited by groups of beauticians and my bust has won prizes from sweater manufacturers. They've liked my eyes and my hands and my lips and my hair. In fact, they haven't missed any part of my physical make-up, except one—my brain.

I can't understand this. I keep hoping and waitifig for some scholarly group to name me "The Brain." Someday, some such organization is going to realize that "My Friend Irma" is all an act and that down deep, I am a brilliant girl who possesses a brain unlike that of any other girl in Hollywood. In the world, even. I am so smart, as a matter of fact, that I didn't even have to haunt up a ghost to write this column for me.

Sometimes I get discouraged. It's nice to be in movies and appear on the radio, but it doesn't give me time to continue my education and get a degree at college. I wish I had gone to college. I wish I had gone to high school. In fact, I wish I had just gone to school.

Still, I console myself in the knowledge that Abraham Lincoln (former president of the United States of America) was self-taught in that he taught himself. I, too, am a self-taught student of the world.

I've used a different technique than Mr. Lincoln, however. He used textbooks written by experts to learn his subjects. This seems almost like cheating. The textbooks which I use aren't written by experts—they're written by me. This, I think, makes for a much fairer arrangement.

FRENCH IS BEST

I guess the subject in which I excel is French. Somehow, this came to me very easily. I started to learn French by patronizing only French restaurants—which, incidentally, made me a great lover of chili con carne. Then I went to see all the French movies in town. It wasn't hard at all to understand what they were saying since I understood every word in the sub-titles.

During the period when I was studying French, I ate only French pancakes, French pastries and hot dogs. (Well, I happen to like hot dogs. Besides, I always use French mustard!)

Another subject which I enjoyed teaching myself is trigonometry. This is my favorite foreign language and I speak it fluently. I like trigonometry because it reminds me of the movies—lots of squares mixed up in triangles.

I found calculus a cinch. The problems were never difficult. In fact, I used to make up new problems all the time. It's fun to make up problems and never have to worry about the answers. I was friendly with a calculus instructor who offered to help me. He really loved me. He even committed suicide to prove it. I can still see the note he left, which read: "I am doing this because of Marie Wilson. . ." I was never so flattered in my life.

Psychiatry is another subject which came to me easily. After learning all about it in just a few hours, I decided to go out and talk with a veteran psychiatrist in case there was anything I had forgotten to learn in the field of psychiatry. Now he's going to a psychiatrist.

BEST COOK IN THE HOUSE

I must admit that for a while I had some trouble teaching myself how to cook. Then one day a friend of mine came into my kitchen and told me that I'd find cooking much easier if I lighted the stove. Once she taught me how to strike a match, a new world opened up to me. Now I consider myself the best cook in our entire household. This flatters me even though I am the only cook in our household.

I studied dramatics in a class in which I was the only girl. It was here that I learned that men are those big things with two legs and eight hands. For a while I couldn't understand why I was the only girl in the class. Then one day one of the instructors explained it to me: This, he said, was a school to teach acting for the legitimate theater, and they wouldn't let in any girls who had anything phony about them.

I don't think it'll be very long before they present me with a special citation for my brain because so many doctors and scientists have shown outward interest in it. As a matter of fact, 16 universities and 33 medical colleges want to place it under a microscope.

Only one thing bothers me about this. Do you think my brain will fit on one of those tiny glass slides?

I recently had lunch at Sardi's with Sid White and his attractive wife, Ethel Thorsen, who is one of the best-known designers of women's negligees in the country. Sid is one of the co-producers of Bill Slater's "Luncheon at Sardi's" program.

Ethel says she designs two kinds of fineries—first, the kind that men buy for women, who in turn exchange them for the second type, the kind that are more practical.

At the age of 14, Ethel decided she was going to be a designer. She went to one of the shows where they were using a lot of fine gowns, and instead of being hired as a designer, they gave her a part in the show.

Her cutest story is about the time she was hired by one of the large designers to be the girl to be fired when a customer came in to complain. They would call Ethel out, blame her for the mistake, and fire her. Ethel would shed a tear or two, the customer would feel sorry for her and all would be forgiven if Ethel were allowed to keep her job.

Sid claims that Ethel plays bridge after a fashion of her own. He told me about the play she made in today's hand. She did not even bother to take the heart finesse. When asked about this play, Ethel's reply was, "Why waste time with something that might lose?" And as it happened, if she had gone over to a spade after winning the opening club lead, and taken the heart finesse, she would have lost her contract.

She cashed the ace of hearts and led the queen of hearts. Now she could establish the fifth heart on which she could discard the losing four of diamonds. Playing the hand this way, she created in the dummy all the necessary entries needed to make the contract.

Social Situations

SITUATION: When you go to the hospital to call on a friend who is a patient you see a "No Visitors" sign on the door.

WRONG WAY: If there is no one around to stop you, knock on the door and go in for a short visit.

RIGHT WAY: Show respect for the sign—it is there to protect the patient and help in his recovery.

Causes of Barren Marriages Can Often be Corrected

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

No one knows exactly how many married couples there are who want children but are unable to have them. Judging from what is known about the subject, however there must be hundreds of thousands of involuntarily barren marriages.

Many possible causes for sterility exist in both men and women. Structural defects, past diseases, disturbances in the glands of internal secretion (hormones) and absent or abnormal sperm or eggs are among the possibilities. In many cases, the difficulty, regardless of whether it is in the husband or in the wife can be discovered and rectified either by medical or surgical means. In women, for example, the Rubin test which is used to discover whether the passageways by which the egg passes to the womb are open, has been of great use in diagnosing this cause of sterility.

MIGHT BE TEMPORARY

In addition to the more definite causes for sterility in men and in women, it is now recognized that in many cases the inability to conceive is not complete but is temporary and merely caused by some minor ailment. A slight anemia, a vitamin deficiency, severe underweight or overweight, or other signs of being below par may be at fault. When such things are corrected, fertility may be restored in some cases and the desired child is soon on the way.

Considerable skill and experience is necessary to explore all the possibilities for sterility. Both husband and wife must be investigated if there is a real desire to find the solution. It cannot always be found, but in an increasing number of cases the results are turning out well.

back is always oily, especially after a bath. What causes this?

ANSWER: It is impossible to be sure of the exact cause. Possibly your husband's skin is sensitive to soap. Another possibility is a condition sometimes called the bath itch which affects a considerable number of people, especially in cold weather.

Westbrook Pegler

He regrets that Cardinal Spellman did not stand his ground in the controversy with Mrs. Roosevelt

(COPYRIGHT, 1949, KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.)

New York—During her long career among the Communists, who are, of course, anti-religious and especially anti-Catholic, Eleanor Roosevelt had access to inside information. During her White House days she called on government officials and employees at will to get information for her. This nails down the fact that she had no excuse not to know the subversive character of Communist fronts to which she gave aid and comfort. These fronts all were inherently, some of them actively, anti-Catholic.

Westbrook Pegler

The American youth congress has been identified by the attorney general's office as a Communist front. That means that it favors the violent overthrow of the government.

No avowed Communist gave more effective and devoted service to the youth congress than Eleanor Roosevelt. She entertained its leaders at the White House. She spoke at eight meetings of the congress. She wrote an article in April, 1940, entitled, "Why I Still Believe in the Youth Congress," illustrated with a group picture of three of its officers, all identified as Communists in sworn testimony.

Displayed Contempt

This trio appeared before the committee on un-American activities in an uproarious demonstration of contempt for the national legislature. At these hearings she indicated her sympathy with Communists and initiated her friendship with Joe Lash. During the war she commandeered a four-engine military plane with crew and corps of commissioned army press-agents, all at the tax-payers' expense, to fly her to a safe island in the Pacific where Lash was stationed. She resorted to the broken-wing trick, proceeding by a roundabout route to create an impression that she was performing a morale and good-will mission. Having established this deception, she swooped down to Lash and publicly kissed him. In testimony before the committee, Lash said he "worked very closely" with the Communists and attended "two or three meetings" of the ruling board of the Young Communist league but never joined the party.

Mrs. Roosevelt also defended the youth congress in her column and in a speech before the council of southern women. She arranged a dinner at the home of Ed Flynn to raise money for the congress. Further citations would only labor the point. She was honorary-chairman of the American committee for Yugo-Slav relief. Her name was placed alone at the top of the letter-head which this Communist front used to solicit money. Herbert H. Lehman, the ex-governor of New York, joined her in this appeal for Yugoslavia about six months after dictator Tito shot down five American army fliers who died in the crash.

Lehman hopped to Mrs. Roosevelt's defense when Cardinal Spellman at last acknowledged her enmity toward Catholicism. There were many Communists and fellow-travelers in this committee for Yugo-Slav relief. It was a tenacle of the conspiracy which Dean Acheson, our secretary of state, recently acknowledged as a grave military threat to the United States. One of the Communists on the roll was Frank Borich. Another was George Pirinsky. He was arrested recently for deportation proceedings. He has been a Communish party organizer here for 20 years. The committee quietly passed out of existence when Dictator Tito defied Dictator Stalin. Up to that point these humanitarians bewailed the hunger of Yugo-Slav children. Their concern ended the instant Tito ceased to serve the Kremlin.

Pirinsky was executive secretary of the first American slav congress, also listed as a subversive organization.

In March, 1947, the Roosevelt woman said: "I do not think the Communists advocate the overthrow of the government by violence." On Aug. 10, 1949, at the famous Communist trial in New York, a defendant admitted that the party did advocate such insurrection.

Must Be Legal

Whittaker Chambers, who organized treason in the state department during the Roosevelt reign, testified: "You will find in Lenin's work a statement that the one thing the party has to dread above all is outlawing. It must work as a legal party."

In December, 1946, Eleanor Roosevelt was honorary chairman of American relief for Greek democracy, which embraced many Communists. The sponsors included Pierre Van Paassen, a hack who for a long time appeared on the masthead of the Protestant, the anti-Catholic magazine which she gratuitously endorsed in her column with no mention of its anti-Catholic character. She begged for food for Greek children of "men who died fighting the Axis." The patriotic Greek army also fought the axis and kicked the pants off the Italian army in Albania while Stalin and Hitler were allies.

Promoted Disloyalty

She sent "greetings" to "the Soviet women" on "International Women's Day," a pro-Soviet political festival. "The Soviet Women" heard nothing of this. The sole purpose was to flaunt and promote disloyalty in the United States.

In March, 1946, she was listed as a "sponsor" of the national committee to abolish the poll tax. Same old story. Katherine Buckes Shryver, the executive secretary, was identified as a Communist in sworn testimony before the committee on un-American activities. Her brother, Harold Buckles, is secretary to congressman Ad Sabath, of Chicago, the chairman of the house rules committee.

Eleanor the Great led the "protest" against a typical deportation in Farrell, Pa., organized by the American committee for the protection of the foreign born. Mary McLeod Bethune, a negro, cited forty times in the house committee's ominous record, was second on the "protest" roll. The committee for the protection of the foreign born is another outfit listed by the attorney general.

Mrs. Roosevelt sent a contribution to the American League For Peace and Democracy, similarly catalogued. She was a member of a committee of the national council of American-Soviet friendship, still another front.

When Cardinal Mindszenty was being condemned she quoted a "factual" informant to the effect that the Cardinal was an anti-Semite, a fascist, the greatest opponent of the general welfare of the Hungarian people and the holder of enormous areas of land. Witnesses retorted that the cardinal hid and protected Jews from the Nazis. Fascism was advocated for the United States in its most degrading aspects by Eleanor Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins in considered plans which they published in 1944. The "Welfare of the Hungarian People" which the cardinal opposed was a Communist propagandist's euphemism for Soviet rule. And Eleanor Roosevelt and her brood hold one of the greatest tracts of land in Duchess county.

Seldes Was Source

The source of her "factual" information about the matryr cardinal was George Seldes, a notorious anti-Catholic propagandist of the Communist line.

There is more but I submit that this proves that wherever a choice existed this woman was on the side of the anti-Catholics. She argued that her support of Al Smith refuted Cardinal Spellman's charge. By that rule, her support of Communist causes and fronts would prove that she is not anti-Communist.

Cardinal Spellman was right in the first place. He should have stood his ground. In time, it will be necessary to recapture the position which he abandoned under persuasion from a few sordid professional Irish-Catholic politicians of the type described by Tommy the Cork as Levantine Irish, meaning Irish of no loyalty or principle.

Revivalists are Killed, Injured by Lumber Truck

Fulton, Miss., Aug 17—(AP)—A heavy lumber carier plowed into the center of an open-bed truck loaded with a gay crowd of revivalists near here last night, spreading six dead and 20 injured along a 100-foot section of roadway.

Two of the injured, in a Tupelo, Miss., hospital, were reported in a "very critical" condition today.

Highway patrol Inspector G. L. Hobis said the lumber truck, driven by R. Y. Booth of Newburgh, Ind., ramed the other vehicle as it turned into a side road leading to the church.

The scene of the accident was about a mile and half inside the Mississippi state line. All of the dead and injured were of or near Hamilton, Ala.

The revivalists were members of The Church of God. They were being driven by the Rev. W. H. Cox to a church meeting at Tremont, ten miles east of here.

Airport Board on Hangar Inspections

Need for more hangar space at the Dixon Municipal Airport sent four members of the board of directors on an aerial inspection trip Monday. Joe Cochran II was accompanied by Hal Roberts, Forrest Eakman and Walter Zinke on a trip to Lincoln and Springfield where new hangars were inspected. The board members are considering the building of additional hangar space to accommodate the large number of planes now housed at the airport, some of which are required to remain out of doors throughout the year.

Byron Church Nuptial Scene

Oregon—Residing in an apartment on Blackhawk Drive, Byron, after their Wisconsin wedding trip will be Mr. and Mrs. Russell Eugene Bontjes who were wed Saturday, July 30th. Mary Elizabeth Hogan, daughter of William L. Hogan of Byron, became the bride of the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bontjes of Byron at a 2 p m. ceremony at St. Mary's church, Byron. Rev. Hewitt performed the double ring ceremony

Miss Donita Campbell of Byron was organist for the ceremony which took place amid a setting of palms, pink gladioli, garden flowers and baskets of Queen's lace.

Wears White Suit

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gabardine suit and navy blue accessories. She wore an orchid corsage and for her something borrowed she wore a necklace belonging to the groom's mother.

Miss Dorothy Bontjes, sister of the groom was maid of honor. She wore an aqua suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

William Hogan, Jr., brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were Francis Hogan and Walter Bontjes of Byron, brothers of the bride and groom.

Reception for 100

Bouquets of pink glads decorated the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hogan, for the reception for 100 guests. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table. Friends of the bride from Byron assisted at the reception. Miss Joyce Palmer poured; Mrs. Harold Brantner served the punch; Miss Joyce Knodle cut and served the cake and was assisted by Miss Melba Brown. Ice cream was served by the hostess; Mrs. Ralph Wright had charge of the guest book and Nila and Lois Bontjes received the gifts.

For traveling the bride wore a matching gold necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom, with her suit.

A graduate of the Byron High School, the bride has been employed in the office of the Isaacson Iron Works, Rockford. The groom who was educated in Rockford schools served three and one-half years in the U. S. Navy. He is employed at the J. I. Case Company, Rockford.

Guests from Rockford, Oregon, Elmhurst and Wisconsin attended the wedding.

Homemakers of County Attend August Camps

Lee County Home Bureau members had one of the largest representations at the annual Homemaker's camp held at Camp Archie Allen on the Mississippi, near Port Byron. There were nine full time campers for the three day session Aug. 8, 10 and 21 one day campers on the Bib Day which was held the 9th.

Camp program consisted of Family Living lectures and discussions led by Mrs. Mary Ligon of the University of Illinois and recreation and song fests led by Miss Isabelle Purnell also of the University.

An interesting talk by a German war-bride, Mrs. Robert Schere of Tampico was given on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Schere told of her hair-raising experiences under the Nazi rule and even more worse to her, the Russian rule. Camp handicraft consisted of shell work, leathercraft and metal tooling in copper. Homemakers of Carroll and Henry county conducted this program along with Margaret Ann Cummins of the University staff.

They Attended

Those attending for all three days were: Mrs. John Ulferts, Mrs. Joe Englebrecht, Mrs. Eva Gehant, Mrs. Edward Fisher, Mrs. Eric Gerdes, Mrs. William Schafer, Mrs. Lola Christensen and her sister-in-law, Antoine Christensen of Denmark and June Pilgrim. For a bitter-sweet fudge sauce melt a package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces over hot water, add three tablespoons of boiling water and blend well. Then add a quarter cup of light cream and blend in well again. This sauce may be served over plain white cup cakes with the addition of ice cream or whipped cream, if you like.

Here's a Tip on Breakfast Woes

Urbana—Most folk like a change now and then in breakfast menus. If this first meal of the day is a problem, Miss Grace Armstrong, nutritionist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, suggests that you try for variety.

Mix fruits—berries with sliced peaches, for instance—for change of flavor. Sliced bananas and oranges or bananas with grapefruit are another interesting combination. Vary cooked fruit flavors too. Sprinkle applesauce with cinnamon or nutmeg. Add orange or lemon slices to prunes or figs.

Split left-over rolls, muffins, biscuits, or cornbread. Spread them with butter and toast them in the oven. Or make bacon rolls by putting crisp brown bacon into toasted rolls. Add crisp bacon, diced, to the muffin batter just before you turn it into the pans for baking.

For a hearty main-course dish, scramble eggs with tomatoes. For six servings, beat together six eggs and a cup of cooked tomatoes. Season with salt and pepper, and cook in a little fat over low heat. Stir constantly and cook until the eggs are the consistency you prefer.

Broil or fry tomatoes—ripe or green—and serve with crisp bacon or ham. Cut the tomatoes into slices about one-half inch thick. Dip in beaten egg and then in fine crumbs. Fry in a small amount of fat until goldenbrown and tender

Czech Tactics Hit by Beran in Statement

Prague, Aug. 17—(AP)—Breaking a two months silence, Roman Catholic Archbishop Josef Beran of Prague today accused the Czechoslovak government of interning and isolating him in his palace here in violation of constitutional rights.

The Catholic primate charged further that the government had illegally seized his consistory (administrative office) and confiscated the funds of his Prague diocese.

He made these charges in a letter to the state procurator (prosecutor). It was given to the foreign press here through church and diplomatic channels. In this letter Beran asked these questions.

"Is the Roman Catholic church in Czechoslovakia still recognized by the state? If so, by what law was the Roman Catholic church deprived of [illegible] independence in internal affairs?"

Beran has been secluded in his pontifical palace since June 19, when Communist hecklers broke up his service in St. Vitus cathedral.

The last word from him was in a pastoral letter, also signed by all the bishops of his hierarchy, which was read in Catholic pulpits on June 26. However, this letter, which accused the Communist-led government of persecuting the church was composed and signed on June 15.

Says Letter to Paper Was 'Over-Played'

lines when not warranted, and creating the impression that the council is not working for the best interests of the people in Dixon is not good journalism.

"In a recent instance," Hofmann said, "the editor of the local paper tacked a comment on an Associated Press story about some bit of governmental procedure in another city . . . this comment took a crack at the length of time it took Dixon's council to purchase a garbage truck.

"We did advertise for bids on new garbage trucks, and the first time the lowest bid was $5,160.01. An out of town bid of $4,715.06 on a small truck failed to meet the required specifications. We readvertised for bids. This procedure took two weeks. The lowest bid then received was $4,300, and was accepted. We saved the taxpayers $856 in two weeks. We are always doing everything possible to save the taxapers' money and will continue to do so," Hofmann said.

Now "Super" Editor

"I also object to The Telegraph's giving a sub-headline to this man's story. He is a man who ran for office in Dixon but could not get elected. (Hofmann referred to the article "Fire Is Cited as Need for a Building Code.")

"That article indicated that Dixon's fire department did not have any ladders tall enough to reach the top floor of the building that was afire over the weekend. As a matter of fact, two ladders reached as high as was necessary and firemen used these ladders to get in and out of the burning building. Those ladders could have gone up higher if necessary.

"Then," Hofmann continued, "on the matter of the lack of a building code, as pointed up in The Telegraph's article. The city of Dixon had a building code at one time. On April 28, 1931, it was repealed. Only one member of the present council was in office on the council at that time, and he voted against repeal of the code. I refer to George Campbell, commissioner of accounts and finance.

"Recently this council asked the city attorney to prepare a proper building code to cover all types of buildings, and this matter is still being worked on," Hofmann said.

Fred Gushes

Hofmann then complimented the fire department on saving a valuable piece of property from being demolished in the fire over the weekend. He also passed the flowers to the street department for the work in improving Dixon's streets, and made with more verbal awards to the health department, finance department and public property departments of the city government. Hofmann indicated that the city of Dixon was in the best shape that it has ever been in several years. He also pointed up the fact that taxes are not too high, and that the council members are doing a good job in all respects.

Vaile Joins In

Then Commissioner Joseph Vaile took the floor. Said Vaile:

"I believe that we were voted into these offices to exercise and discharge the duties for the city of Dixon. I object to the 'lip service' that certain people have been giving lately to the efforts of the members of the council to carry out their duties.

"Any citizen is not a good citizen of Dixon if he fails to attend the weekly council meetings, if he has some grievance, and then goes around giving 'lip service' and sounding off on what the council is NOT doing to help solve his problems. I've been in this council for many years, and this is the first time that this council has not had the full support of every citizen in Dixon. We do not have their unanimous support.

"The council has been forced to cope with the many problems that were the aftermath of World War II, with higher prices for everything—but throughout, the council has always done everything within its power to service the taxpayers.

"If the few citizens that have certain problems can't find their way to the city hall on regular meeting night, to present these problems to the council," Vaile went on, "what they have to say with their 'lip service' around town, and on the streets, doesn't mean very much. We can get along without them. We can get along without the persons who failed to get elected and consequently find fault with what the council is doing. We stand ready to defend our job and while we are in office we will do just that."

Commenting on the matter of a building code, Commissioner Lindquist said that the danger of establishing a building code, was that it would prevent the small individual, with limited money, from doing the building and repair work on homes. Lindquist said that the establishment of a building code would work hardship on the little man and prevent him from making use of his mechanical ability.

However, Lindquist at no time indicated that some form of code was not necessary.

Mayor Hofmann concluded the meeting with:

Anytime, Fred

"As I said before, it is not my custom to openly comment on public criticism of what the council is doing—or on what the press has to say on such matters, but this time I felt that some comment was necessary."

Hofmann publically acclaimed Ed Voss and Sterling D. Schrock for their efforts as volunteer firemen, in fighting the fire at 312 Ottawa avenue, early Monday morning.

Hofmann also said (again referring to the article by John Earle in Monday's Telegraph):

"By local ordinance, the police are required to help on all fires in Dixon, if needed."

Taxpayers Holler

William A. Miller, 416 East Sixth street, appeared before the council and said:

"You talk about doing repair work on the streets in Dixon. Yes, you repaired the downtown streets. But we have had no improvements on our street in five years, except some gravel in spots. We've asked the council's help on this, but don't get any place."

Hofmann said that Commissioner Vaile had a program planned for the improvement of Sixth street in Miller's area. Said Vaile:

"We intend to improve your street. But, you have forgotten. The last time we wanted to improve that street, you refused to 'hold still' for the assessment. Your place is on one of the 'mine run' streets in Dixon. We have oil ordered for the purpose of improving several streets. Yours will be included."

Frank G. Janssen, 619 South Lincoln avenue, approached the railing and said:

"We have a dust problem on our street. City buses stop every half hour in front of our house. That's okay, but we'd like to have something done about the dust."

Commissioner Vaile said there was a plan for the blacktopping of Miller's street, and that that should make everybody happy.

tion more than a week ago when the dump caught fire on a Sunday afternoon and the community fire department was finally ordered out to extinguish the offensive fire and allay the smoke which poured into numerous homes in the section adjoining the dump.

Aside from commenting that there would be no more "buck-passing" on the dump subject, Supervisor Higby added that the members of the township health board might be jailed for their action, but that they had no regrets to offer after receiving the petition of the property owners of the area.

Amboy Legion Auxiliary in Session Tuesday

Amboy—The regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary was held at the Lee County Nursing home, Eldena, Tuesday night. Mrs. Fred Washburn, Mrs. Joseph McGrath, Mrs. Paul Hart, and Mrs. Leroy Wagner were the hostesses.

Mrs. Roy Long gave a report of the department convention.

It was voted to have joint installation of officers with the Legion on Sept. 16.

Plans were discussed for a Lee County council meeting possibly on Sept. 20.

Mrs. J. A. Tait, the incoming president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Gordon Lovett, who has gone to Florida.

Hospital News

Mrs. Mildred Anderson submitted to major surgery Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boehle are parents of a daughter, born Sunday.

Ted Stromuck returned to his home Saturday.

Willard Ballard returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Netta J. Vaughan returned to work at the First National bank Monday after a week's vacation spent at Lake Ripley, Wis., where she joined her family. She returned to Amboy Sunday night.

Republicans to Postpone 1950 'Plans'

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—Republicans were reported in general agreement today to delay until next spring any statement of party aims for the 1950 congressional campaign.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the senate GOP policy committee, told a reporter that informal talks of leaders with Republican national chairman Guy G. Gabrielson showed most sentiment is against trying to draft any set of principles.

However, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said in a separate interview he thinks the Republicans ought to make it clear where they stand on national issues well in advance of the campaign.

Wherry said he thinks the Republicans had better get busy in the midwest if they want to win next year's battle over control of congress.

Gabrielson, who met with a group last night to plan a Sioux City, Iowa, farm meeting September 21 and 22, said efforts will be stepped up to make this a major party occasion.

Deaths

MRS. MARY WALKER

Mrs. Mary A. Walker, 89, widow of John Walker, 1420 West 4th street, died at 4:15 p. m. Tuesday in her home, following a short illness.

Mrs. Walker, who was born in Beloit, Wis., in 1860, was the daughter of Simon Hanlon, pioneer Dixon settler who operated a harness shop on West 1st street. She lived all her life in Dixon.

Mrs. Walker was a member of the local chapter of Mothers of World War I, a charter member of the V.F.W. auxiliary and a lifelong member of St. Luke's Episcopal church.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Florence Emmole, Dixon; six grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. She was preceded in death by two sons, Robert and George.

Services will be held Friday at 10 a. m. in St. Luke's Episcopal church by the Rev. Fr. Vernon Jones. The body is in the Buckley-Staples funeral home where friends may call until 10 o'clock Friday morning. The VFW auxiliary will have services at the grave.

exercise of the police power of the state controls which have a substantial relationship to the public welfare.

"I see no such relationship in this bill. Ours is basically a free enterprise economy. Free enterprise has historically meant competition."

Under the governor's salary bill, Stevenson himself will not benefit unless he is reelected in 1952, when it becomes effective.

The increase will put the Illinois chief executive on a salary par with the governors of New York and California. It will place him above the University of Illinois president, who now gets $20,000, and the mayor of Chicago and the seven Illinois supreme court justices, who receive $18,000 annually.

One Ounce Shot

Legislators who backed the one ounce shot bill said it is aimed at stopping some taverns from serving liquor in deceptive shot glasses with magnified bottoms. The law is effective next Jan. 1.

Stevenson vetoed the currency exchange legislation because he said it represents "a further step in the efforts of the currency exchange operators to eliminate or reduce competition from concerns which cash employes pay checks for a charge on the premises of the employer."

In addition to license fees, the bill required each ambulatory exchange to have at least one armed guard at each location where checks are cashed outside an armored truck.

"In my opinion," Stevenson's veto message said, "the protection of limited business interests from competition without compensating public benefit exceeds the legitimate bounds of government regulation."

Navy Does Not Plan Trip to Antarctic

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—There will be no navy expedition to the Antarctic this fall.

The navy announced yesterday that, due to "compelling reasons of economy," it had cancelled plans to send Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd back to the south polar region to continue the explorations he started in 1946.

Plans for the polar expedition, called "operation high jump II," reportedly had involved some 3,500 men and eight vessels.

Pros, All-Stars Sign New 10-Year Grid Agreement

Chicago, Aug. 17—(AP)—If the national Football league and All-America conference bury the hatchet and match their champions in a post-season showdown, the winner will meet the college All-Stars.

This is provided in a new 10-year contract signed yesterday between the National loop and the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., sponsor of the annual All-Star spectacle at Soldier field.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the National league, however, emphasizes that the clause merely is "a protection to the Chicago Tribune." His league "definitely" will play no post-season game with any other league, Bell said.

Arch Ward, Tribune sports editor, has the same explanation.

"I know of no plans for a working agreement developing between the National and All-America leagues," said Ward. "But we are trying to look into the future, years from now, we want to be and if any 'world' pro football series develops next year, or eight protected. We don't want to meet a defeated team in the All-Star game."

The new clause specifically provided that if the National league champion engages in a post-season game with the championship team of "any other professional league," the winner must face the All-Stars.

The fact that Ward, one of the founders of the All-America conference, has injected this clause for the first time caused some speculation that the two leagues may be closer to peace than meets the eye.

Man Gets First Glimpse of Unbelievable Marine World

Smuggler's Cove, Calif., Aug. 17—(AP)—An "unbelievable world," 4,500 feet under the sea and filled with weird an wondrous creatures, has got its first glimpse of man.

The strange, luminous forms of marine life which inhabit the depths of the ocean yesterday saw a white sphere suddenly lower itself into their midst.

Inside the sphere was a creature they had never seen before—a man.

Armies of spiraling shrimp hurled themselves in a barrage against a window in the sphere through which the man was intently peering.

Their attempt was in vain. They only splattered against the window.

The man was Otis Barton, marine explorer, who in his new diving bell, the Benthoscope, set a new deep sea diving record yesterday. He descended to 4,500 feet, bettering his own record of 3,028 feet, achieved in 1934 off Bermuda with Naturalist William Beebe.

The explorer took moving pictures of what he saw as far down as 4,000 feet.

Barton telephoned his observations to an assistant on the barge from which the Bethoscope was being lowered.

At 460 feet he said: "There are a lot of lantern fish passing by now. They're big fellows and they are jumping all over. Now the fireworks are really starting . . . There's a creature that looks like a long pipe with a row of lights along it. I don't know what it is.

"The tenacles of an octupus just dragged by the window, showering sparks. I can't see him but he must have been a big fellow . . . I just saw an animal with a long tail. I don't know what it is."

Only 17 minutes after he started down, Barton said: "There was flashing light going by. At 2,500 feet: "I see a barrage of luminescent, spiraling shrimp beating against the window. They seem to splash when they hit . . . A long, thin brilliantly lighted fish went by. It looks like an eel."

It's Unbelievable

After passing 3,028 feet—the old record: "This is an unbelievable world down here. I wish Dr. Beebe were down here with me. He might know what some of these things are. I don't recognize them."

At 4,000 feet he said, "there are so many things going by that it kind of makes me dizzy." At 4,100 feet the lights illuminating the area outside his window went out, but Barton dropped on down to 4,500 feet.

Then he telephoned, "there goes a big white jellyfish. I never saw anything like that before. There's a little spot of light with a circle around it . . . I am amazed to see so many luminous things at this depth. The water is beautifully, unexpectedly clear, as clear as it was at Bermuda."

Planned to Go Deeper

Barton returned to the surface without incident, and announced he would not attempt any further deep dives for some time. Originally he had planned to descend to 6,000 feet. He twice sent the Benthoscope more than a mile deep unmanned in preliminary dives.

He made the 4,500 foot drop in 55 minutes and hung there seven minutes. He said he could see no sense in going deeper because the failure of the lights wouuld prevent his taking pictures.

The ocean bottom was still 2,000 feet beneath him.

After climbing out of the five-foot, hollow steel ball, Barton said: "There's a peculiarly lighted fish that looks like Satan. And there's an amazing display of magic lanterns."

Townsend Plan Active Again

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—The Townsend old-age pension plan is perking up again in congress.

Backers are more than half way in signing up the 218 members necessary to force a vote on it in the house. They had a pep meeting yesterday and organized a drive to round up the remaining 93 signatures.

More than a dozen representatives showed up. Rep. Blatnik (D-Minn) passed around lists of other members for them to button hole.

"If we make a good, concerted spirited drive," Blatnik said, "we can get five or six persons each That puts us over the hump."

For a dozen years, the Townsendites have been saying the federal social security program isn't enough to see the old folks through their advanced years.

They rallied by thousands behind Dr. Francis E. Townsend and his plan to slap a 3 per cent tax on the national income and split up the proceeds with old-age pensions. They organized clubs throughout the country. They sent in their dimes to pay for expenses of their movement.

But it never has come anywhere near clearing congress

Rutledge's Father Says Funds Coming in Good for Appeal

St. Louis, Aug. 17—(AP)—Encouraged by voluntary support, Robert C. Rutledge, Sr., has denied definitely to appeal his son's 70-year sentence for murder in Iowa and might not have to sell his home in Houston, Tex., to finance it, the Post-Dispatch reported today.

A reporter talked with the father in Houston.

"It may not be necessary to sell my home as I had feared at first." Rutledge said. "I want to thank the public for its sympathy and contributions." St. Louis people now have donated $1,072 to the appeal fund.

Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., was sentenced recently for the murder of Byron C. Hattman of St. Louis at Cedar Rapids last December, over Hattman's attention to Mrs. Rutledge.

Typo Unions Talk Tighter Work Policy

Oakland, Calif., Aug. 17—(AP)—Leaders of the International Typographical Union proposed today to tighten its work contract policy.

Target of the prospective action at the current 91st convention was the so-called "memorandum contract." Some IT locals recently signed such agreements with employers. They drew rebuke by the ITU executive council.

President Woodruff Randolph referred to contract deviations in floor debate yesterday on an attempt to knock over the union's basic policy for dealing with employers.

Resolution Beaten

Delegates drowned out a St. Louis resolution for a policy change with a resounding vote. There were no dissenting votes to adoption of a committee report spiking the resolution. The action backed Randolph's two-year fight against certain employers and the Taft-Hartley Act.

St Louis members called for outright repeal of the bargaining formula as outdated and unsuccessful in maintaining harmony. Randolph, after referring to the 21-month ITU strike against Chicago newspapers and disputes elsewhere, warned that to abandon it would mean "complete surrender."

Position Explained

Randolph explained the ITU position this way:

"All we have asked the employers to do is accord us the things which have been ours for years and have not been outlawed by the Taft-Hartley act."

Some employers thought the ITU went too far in demands to preserve past benefits. They filed 10 complaints of unfair labor practices against the union, with the national labor relations board. A decision is pending. In addition, the ITU has been enjoined from violating the Taft-Hartley act.

A seven-event outdoor track meet, featured by a mile race with top competitors, will be offered Jan. 1 as part of the Sugar Bowl sports carnival.

SOUTHWORTH TAKES REST; NEAR BREAKDOWN

Notes From the Great Outdoors

Chicago, Aug. 17—(AP)—Remember about six or seven years ago rabbits were so thick in some parts of Illinois they were a nuisance? Well, times have changed.

It looks like the balance of nature has been at work and the bunny cycle has hit one of its periodic low spots.

Anyway Br'er Rabbit is getting a break this year from the state conservation department. The season has been shortened 15 days, running from Nov. 11 to Jan. 15. The daily bag limit has been cut from 15 to eight. Possession limit is reduced from 30 to 16.

* * *

OTHER CHANGES made in the new state game code include a year-round open season on foxes in the Southern zone, making them—like badgers—unprotected throughout the state.

The squirrel seasons: Southern zone, Aug. 1 to Oct 15; Central, Sept. 1 to Oct. 31; Northern, Sept. 15 to Nov. 15.

The new dates for taking fur bearing animals are Dec. 1 to Jan. 31. The former dates were Nov. 15 to Jan. 15.

THE CODE ALSO has some new rules to protect against the shooting of hen pheasants. It is now unlawful to pick the birds in the field or to cut off their heads when dressing them for storage.

The dove season will run from Sept. 1 to 30. The daily bag and possession limit is 10.

C. A. FRAZER, Managing Editor of the Centralia Sentinel, says float fishing ("juggling") has been good in the Ohio river—so good that commerical fishermen are getting more meat with their float cans than in ther nets. Fresh cut shad is supplanting chicken entrails as the bait.

NORTH AND SOUTH DAKOTA will each have open seasons on pheasant despite the fact the Chinks have been faring badly the last few years.

In South Dakota the season will open at noon on Oct. 15. The state has been districted for 20, 30 and 45 day seasons. The shortest season will be in the 12 eastern counties. The daily limit will be three cocks in the east, four in some of the other regions.

North Dakota's season opens at noon, Oct. 7, and will close at sunset, Nov. 20. The bag limit will be three cocks, possession limit six.

THE GRAND AMERICAN trapshoot, the biggest shotgun carnival in the world, opens Friday at Vandalia, Ohio and will run through Aug. 27.

About 2,000 of the nation's Deadeye Dicks and Doras, including some of the most colorful characters in the land, will be there.

They'll come from Cuba, Canada, Mexico and the Canal Zone, too, and they'll range in age from 9 to 90. Their goal is some of the $50,000 swag.

* * *

SO FAR AS AMATEURISM is concerned, the Grand is a topsy-turvey event: In the scattergun sport the amateurs fire for the dough and the professionals for fun.

Top event of the big shoot is the Grand American Handicap, which has been won by a 14 year old boy and by a 70 year old man.

IT TOOK LaSALLE'S mayor, Matt Bildhauer, 10 minutes the other day to land a seven-pound fighting black bass from the Hennepin canal. That day, the mayor and the LaSalle city attorney, Henry X. Petz, took 70 fish from the canal in three hours—the big bass three smaller ones, a three-pound sheep-head, 12 crappies, two bullheads and the remainder bluegills.

City Tennis Meet to Begin Next Week

Trophies To Be Donated by Reynolds Co.

The Reynolds Wire Co. will contribute the trophies and medals for all divisions of the city tennis tournament scheduled to begin next Tuesday, it was announced today.

Sponsor of the event last year, officials of the firm said they plan to make this an annual contribution to city tennis lovers. Engraved trophies or medals will be furnished the winners and runnersup in six classes

George Covert, Dixon Tennis club president said today, "This makes for a well-rounded tennis season and provides recognition to those to work hard to excel in their respective classes We are all very grateful to the Reynolds Wire Co. for this generous gesture."

* * *

Tournament play is expected to extend over a three-week period. Divisions in which champions will be named are:

Boys, 13 years and under—singles and doubles.

Junior boys, 18 years and over 13—singles and doubles.

Junior girls, 18 years and under—singles and doubles.

Women, singles and doubles.

Men, singles and doubles.

Mixed doubles.

Oregon Marksman to Fire in NRA National Meet

Washington, D C.—(Special)—Russell Wiles, 502 Franklin St. Oregon, Ill., has qualified to shoot in the 1949 National Rifle championships at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Ia., September 4-5, it was announced today by the National Rifle Association. It is the 65th renewal of the event.

Wiles makes up part of the challenging field of 249 of the nation's best marksmen who will compete for the national title now held by 21-year-old Arthur Cook, of Washington, D. C.

Rochelle to Meet Compton Under Arcs

Rochelle—(Special)—Fans will get a look at night baseball here tonight as the Rochelle Hubs and Compton play off a postponed Midwest league game.

Manager Bill Eckhardt said that the present softball lights will be augmented by additional equipment to enable baseball to be played. The experiment is expected to be witnessed by a large number of fans.

President Truman's personal airplane is known as the Independence.

Will Batile Wisconsin State Champs Saturday

These Dixon V.F.W. All-Stars will attempt to uphold the prestige of Northern Illinois softball when they engage the Kingsbury Beers of Kenosha, Wis., 1948 state champions, at the Airport diamond Saturday. Proceeds of the contest will swell the Willard Jones Memorial fund to be used to purchase and install a football scoreboard at the Dixon high school stadium. The Vets, with a season's record of 21 games and 10 losses, will play tonight also in a Rock River league clash with Mt. Morris Acker's Clothiers. A win for the Vets will place them in a tie for the league's leadership. Back row: Leo Whitman, Johnny Sloan, Bud Lair, Dale Frey and "Red" Sloan. Seated: Bill Cechetti, Manager Art Carlson, Vernon Kirk, Bus Carlson, Walter Knack, Jr., and Robert Kernan. Kneeling is Jack Starkey, bat boy. Team personnel absent when the picture was taken were Hank Henry and Red Flannagan

COUGHLIN'S CORNER

By CLIFF

THE WILLARD JONES Memorial Fund today stood at $649.50, a $70 jump since the last report. This sum is expected to be hiked considerably from the receipts of Saturday's game between the Kenosha Kingsbury Beer team and the local V.F.W. All-Stars.

* * * *

THE LATEST CONTRIBUTORS ARE: Atty Edward Jones; Francis (Hank) Henry, local clothier; Johnny Loftus, ex-Notre Dame cager and now an insurance man; the Navy club of Dixon; Earl Slagle, Jr., Eugene Krahenbuhl, Fred Ruben, A. C. Higby, an anonymous contributor, and L. L. Memler, member of the school board.

* * * *

THE ORIGINAL GOAL for the fund was $750. That covered the actual cost of the electric scoreboard. Of course (and it was always thus) there are numerous incidental costs. Installation of a remote-control cable for instance, is an expensive item.

* * * *

MANY HAVE COME TO THE aid of the project, however, and this will cut the cost of "incidentals" considerably. John Cahill, local electrical contractor, has offered his services. This will save many dollars. Standards for the mechanism have also been contributed. So has the labor for the setting of the standards.

* * * *

SO, ALL IN ALL, the memorial will be truly a tribute to Willard Jones from many, many persons. The Downtown Quarterbacks are hoping that the many many other friends of Willard Jones will attend Saturday's softball game at the Airport diamond By doing so, the scoreboard fund can be officially "closed."

THE DISPUTES in the Big Six league stack up this way this morning: The Dixon Merchants and the Rock Falls Hornets will stage a replay of their game which the Hornets claimed on a forfeit Sunday. The Merchants won the game 12-3, but the Rock Falls management protested on the grounds of late starting time.

* * * *

THE POLO MAROON—WALTON contest, which ended in a 3-3 tie Sunday when called in the sixth, but in which Polo claims the score should have reverted to the fifth with Polo leading 3 2, is still being disputed. Polo Manager Elmer Wilson is digging in the rulebooks and some higher authority is to be contacted before any re-play decision is conclusive. League President Christiansen yesterday ordered the game replayed.

THE DIXON JUNIOR LEGION will have to wait until Aug. 28 for their play-off with the Northern division winner for the 13th District Junior Legion title. Seems there is a tie, or a possibility of one, existing between Freeport and Hanover. This will have to be resolved before the title site can be chosen. The game site will be named by the toss of a coin.

THE SWISSVILLE OLD-TIMERS are being challenged by the Swissville Youngsters for a softball match, so the Old-Timers are to move their creaking bones to the Borden diamond Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in an attempt to teach the young'ns a lesson. No charge—just fun!

YESTERDAY'S STARS
By The Associated Press

BATTING — Herman Reich, Cubs — singled with the bases loaded in the fourth inning, and doubled under same conditions in the ninth to drive in four runs and help the Cubs defeat the Cardinals, 5-4.

PITCHING—Alton Benton, Indians — veteran righthander pitched the Indians to a six-hit, 5-0 victory over his former Detroit Tiger teammates.

Ken Heintzelman 'Pal' of Cardinals; He Knocks Off the Brooks for Fifth Time

By The Associated Press

Curve-balling Kenny Heintzelman has whipped the Cardinals three times this season. Yet he probably would be elected mayor of St. Louis if he chose to run.

Heintzelman has one recommendation that already has endeared him to the hearts of all St. Louisians. He is the only pitcher who holds five straight decisions over the Cards' most hated rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers. Ken is practically a St. Louis citizen, having been born in Peruque, Mo.

Were it not for the crafty Philadelphia lefthander, the Dodgers now would be leading the Cardinals by a comfortable margin in their battle for the National league pennant.

As it is, the Brooks own only a slender half game edge today. The Dodgers had a golden opportunity to strengthen their lead last night, but cold not fathom the slants of the 33-year-old veteran.

Earlier in the day, the Cards had blown a 4-2 lead in the ninth when the Chicago Cubs rallied for three runs to win, 5-4. That put the Redbirds a full game behind A Brooklyn victory over Philadelphia would have meant a game and a half advantage.

That's where Heintzelman came in. Not content with four straight successes over them, Ken had to hurl a seven-hitter to whip the Dodgers for the fifth time, 2-1. It took his mates 12 innings to win it for him, but that they did when Ritchie Ashburn tripled in Kenny in the top of the third extra frame Heintzelman had reached base on a force out.

Don Newcombe was the losing hurler. The Dodger right-hander kept pace with Heintzelman for 11 innings but went down to his fifth defeat. He allowed eight hits, three to Dick Sisler.

An old St. Louis nemesis, Johnny Schmitz, combined with Cub first baseman Herman Reich to clip the Redbirds. Schmitz, always tough for the Cards to beat, gained his second win over them with a one-inning relief stint. Reich came through twice with the bags accupied, and doubled in the ninth under the same circumstances. The Cubs' winning run resulted from Roy Smalley's base loaded single in the ninth off Howie Pollett, working in relief.

Al Benton, a 38-year-old castoff, pitched the Cleveland Indians into second place in the torrid American league race. Benton, released last year by Detroit, stopped his former mates with six hits as the Indians shut out the Tigers, 5-0. The triumph put the Tribe two percentage points over the Boston Red Sox and three and a half games behind the pacesetting New York Yankees. Rain washed out the scheduled Yankee-Washington game.

* * *

The Philadelphia Athletics defeated Boston, 7-4, to snap a seven game winning streak for the Red Sox. The defeat dropped the Bosox three and a half games behind the Yankees. Sam Chapman's eighth inning home run started a four-run rally that spelled defeat for young Maurice McDermott The victory shoved the A's into fourth place a half game above the Tigers.

* * *

Lefty Monte Kennedy pitched the New York Giants to a 4-0 victory over the Billy Southworth-less Boston Braves. The Braves manager accepted a leave of absence earlier in the day.

Rookie Lloyd Merriman singled in the winning run as the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1, in a 10-inning thriller Howie Fox won the pitchers' duel from Bob Chesnes. Harry Walker had 10 putouts for the Reds, one short of the record set by left fielders.

Southpaw Bob Kuzava pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 4-0 triumph over the St. Louis Browns. He allowed only three hits for his eighth victory. He has lost only two.

Lakeshire-Marty Wins; Maintains Hopes for Title

Lakeshire-Marty maintained its mathematical chance of tying for the Dixon Softball league lead last night with a 15-6 victory over sixth-place Nelson as Franklin Grove trimmed the Dixon Moose in a wild contest 15-10

Joe Curlee pitched four-hit ball relaxing only in the seventh after his club had amassed a 15-1 lead Curlee, Haas, and Marshall got triples for the winners. Bud Lair homered.

It was the eighth victory in 11 games for Lakeshire Should Lindquist lose to the Moose tonight and Lakeshire trim the Lindquist nine Friday, the league could wind up a three-way tie between Lakeshire, Lindquist and the V.F.W.

In last night's final game, Franklin teed off on Harv Van Oosten for eight runs in the first inning and then continued to their victory. Henry Van Oosten got two homers for the Moose. Lane hit for the circuit for Franklin.

Braves' Boss to Return in 1950--Perini

By JOSEPH B. KELLEY

Boston, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Tired and worn to the edge of a nervous breakdown, Billy Southworth, manager of the National league champion Boston Braves, today was somewhere near his Sunbury, Ohio, home, beginning a rest that will last through the remainder of the season.

"I think too much of Billy—we all do—to have him continue working the way he works when he obviously isn't fit," explained Tribal President Lou Perini.

"I suffered a similar breakdown myself about 15 years ago and if ever I saw a man on the verge of such a condition, Billy is that man."

Asked directly if Southworth would be back as Braves manager next year, Perini replied:

"Very, very definitely. He is the best manager in baseball and he is a fine fellow."

Johnny Cooney, in and out of the Boston National league system for many years, reluctantly took over the managerial post.

"I never wanted to be a manager and I don't now. I'm just taking over for Billy for the remaining six weeks of the season. I doubt if I'd do it for anyone else."

Southworth's big league teams never have been out of the first division.

He has been plagued all season with player injuries. Southworth has used all kinds of combinations in his struggle to keep the Braves near the top.

At present they are in fourth place 13½ games in back of the leading Brooklyn Dodgers and only a game ahead of the fifth place Philadelphia Phillies.

Jap Swimmers Lower World Marks at National A.A.U.

Los Angeles, Aug. 17—(AP)—Yes, it's true what they say about the Japanese swimmers.

The sons of Nippon returned to international competition with a terrific splash as Hironoshin Furuhashi, the Japanese distance champion, and his teammate, Shiro Nashizume, both lowered the world's record for the 1500-meter free style yesterday.

The first day crowd at the National AAU men's swimming and diving championships gasped as Lanky Hashizume won the first heat of the 1500 preliminaries in 18:35.7. That was well under the 1938 world record of 18:58.8 by Japan's Tomikatsu Amano.

Then along came Stocky Furuhashi. Flailing smoothly like a nonstop churn, the "Flying Fish of Fujiyama" reeled off the 30 laps in 18:19, roughly equivalent to the dreamed-of four-minute mile in the track.

Then 19-year-old Sumio Tanaka, "Baby" of the six-man Japanese squad, took the third heat in 19:-19.3.

Off that, tonight's 1500-meter final figures to be a 1-2-3 Nip sweep. The next best time was 20:13.6 by Canada's Burwell Jones, who finished second to Tanaka.

The one-two record-smashing punch by the Japanese is rated without parallel in U. S. swimming annals.

What is the secret of the phenomental success of the Japanese distance swimmers?

One veteran coach, Clarence Pinkston of the Detroit A. C., said the two aces used a five-beat kick, rather than the usual six for every two arm strokes. They seemed to flutter or relax their foot on the sixth beat while taking their breath, he said.

But to the average guy, it just seems that the Nips take off as though they are starting a 100-meter sprint, then keep right on going that way for 1400 more meters.

PUBLIC NOTICE
NOTICE OF PROPOSED CHANGE IN SCHEDULES

To Patrons of Dixon Home Telephone Company:

The Dixon Home Telephone Company hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission proposed changes in its rates for telephone service in its present Dixon and Grand Detour exchanges and its proposed Nachusa and Nelson exchanges and that said changes involve an increase in rates for all classes of exchange service and for miscellaneous services and the elimination of the extra charge for hand sets and of special toll rates, and also involve a change in service at said Dixon, Nachusa and Nelson exchanges to automatic.

A copy of the proposed change in schedules may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of the Company.

All parties interested in this matter may obtain information with respect thereto either directly from this Company or by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois. DIXON HOME TELEPHONE COMPANY, By HARRY H. BATES, Secretary and General Manager.

INGRID AND ROSSELINI—Actress Ingrid Bergman and Italian screen director Roberto Rosselini study script before shooting a scene of the movie "Stromboli" at Farfa Sarbina, Italy. This is the first photo made of the two since Miss Bergman announced that she is seeking a divorce from her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, after rumors of a romance with Rosselini.

Carnival — By Dick Turner

"Lest we lose our position in the march of scientific progress, we must develop sound that will travel faster than airplanes!"

SUSPENDED OFFICIAL TESTIFIES—Major General Alden H. Waitt, suspended chief of the army chemical corps, as he testified before the senate investigating committee. Waitt told the committee investigating "five-per-centers," that he prepared the memorandum belittling the qualities of possible rivals for his job at the request of General Harry Vaughn, White House military aide.

Side Glances — By Galbraith

"Florence feels so out of things—all her friends at camp have had terrible experiences and she hasn't even been rescued from drowning!"

Funny Business — By Harshberger

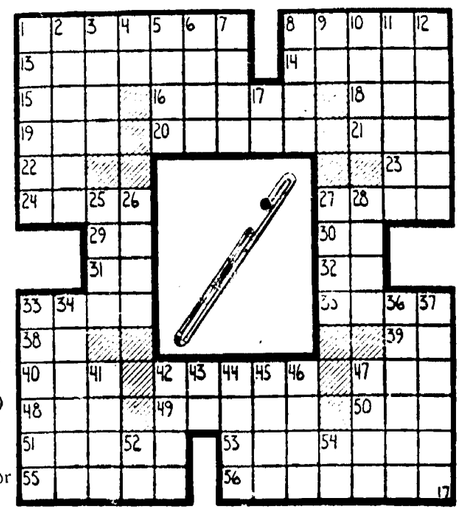

"The telescope is so you can see traffic lights!"
